

Brooke Walls, DO

Dermatology

Don't be surprised if Dr. Walls becomes animated when discussing dermatology. She is passionate about her field and aims for open, honest communication with her patients. "I strive for a mutual friendship and respect with my patients," she explains. "I like to know about their families, where they are from and what makes them unique." Establishing this rapport helps create trust, something Dr. Walls feels is paramount to successful doctor-patient relationships.
